NOTE ON
SECURITY COUNCIL INFORMAL CONSULTATIONS
30 June 1994

L9003499

RWANDA

The Security Council continued its consultations today on a draft resolution which, if adopted, would establish a Commission of Experts to investigate the atrocities in Rwanda. At yesterday's consultations, China had requested deletion of any reference to the High Commission for Human Rights and the Special Rapporteur on Rwanda. The President had requested China and Spain to consult on this issue before today's meeting.

Today China noted that, regarding the draft resolution (sponsored by Spain), its concerns had not been taken care of. China was waiting for instructions from its capital. Government. Spain stated that the first version of the text was distributed three weeks ago. Delegations had had a chance to review it. The time had come to reach a decision, and a vote on the resolution should be taken this afternoon or tomorrow. China responded that although it was included on the consultation list, actual consultations had not yet taken place. He called for consultations to take place today.

The President noted that there appeared to be a need for further consultation. This should be finalised as soon as possible. Spain expressed readiness to continue with consultations, but wished to note that adopted resolutions of the Security Council, were not always presidential texts; they could be delegation-sponsored texts, as in this instance. Spain called for a vote on the draft resolution this afternoon or tomorrow morning. China agreed with Spain on the need for a vote today or tomorrow.

It was agreed that the Council will take up Rwanda tomorrow.

Argentina, Czech Republic, New Zealand, Spain, the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the United States of America: draft resolution

The Security Council,

Reaffirming all its previous resolutions on the situation in Rwanda,

Reaffirming, in particular, resolutions 918 (1994) and 925 (1994), which expanded the United Nations Assistance Mission for Rwanda (UNAMIR), and stressing in this connection the need for early deployment of the expanded UNAMIR to enable it to carry out its mandate,

Recalling the statement by the President of the Security Council of 30 April 1994 (S/PRST/1994/21) in which the Security Council, inter alia, condemned all breaches of international humanitarian law in Rwanda, particularly those perpetrated against the civilian population, and recalled that persons who instigate or participate in such acts are individually responsible,

Recalling also the requests it addressed to the Secretary-General in the statement by the President of the Security Council of 30 April 1994 and in resolution 918 (1994), concerning the investigation of serious violations of international humanitarian law committed in Rwanda during the conflict,

Having considered the report of the Secretary-General of 31 May 1994 (S/1994/640), in which he noted that massacres and killings have continued in a systematic manner throughout Rwanda and also noted that only a proper investigation can establish the facts in order to enable the determination of responsibility,

Welcoming the visit to Rwanda and to the region by the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights and noting the appointment, pursuant to resolution S-3/1 of 28 May 1994 adopted by the United Nations Commission on Human Rights, of a Special Rapporteur for Rwanda,

Expressing once again its grave concern at the continuing reports indicating that systematic, widespread and flagrant violations of international humanitarian law, including acts of genocide, have been committed in Rwanda,
